

Hopkinsville Kentuckian.

CHAS. M. MEACHAM, Editor.

TUESDAY, JULY 2, 1880.

HOPKINSVILLE, KENTUCKY.

A large growing town of 10,000 inhabitants situated in a country of 9000. The Louisville and Nashville has two lines of railroad in the county and the people have recently voted aid to two new roads. Large tobacco growing country in the world. Wheat, corn, hay, coal, live stock and fruits produced for export in large quantities. The city has four banks with an aggregate capital of $1,000,000. A planing mill and wagon factory, three carriage factories, lime factory, tobacco manufacturer, two foundries, three brick-yards, broom factory, steam laundry, ice factory, two large flouring mills in the city and several in the county. Splendid driving par and fine opera house. The city has a population of 10,000. Building and Loan Association, Commercial Club, a telephone exchange, numbered streets and houses and city lighted by gas. Macadamized streets and brick sidewalks all over the city. Eleven churches, two colleges, a high school and the number of public schools is increasing, in the State. Western Kentucky Lunatic Asylum with a population of 650, two miles east of the city. A $100,000 court house with town clock in the dome. A fine fire department and a company of State Guards. Little River furnishes an adequate supply of water for all purposes. Real estate over $1,000,000. Post office for woolen mills, pork packing establishment, fruit canary, tannery and many other enterprises. Climate mild and invigorating and exceedingly healthful.

Boulevard is coming to visit America.

Collector Feland took charge of his office yesterday.

Carlotta Patti, an older sister of Adaline Patti, is dead.

At Owensboro I. H. Axton has sued A. Loeser for $1,000 damages for shooting his dog.

Mary Anderson, an account of failing health, has canceled all engagements and will retire from the stage until October 1880.

Thirty-four babies under five years of age died in Louisville last week. The total number of deaths during the week was 64.

The president has appointed Fred Douglas, at one time the most conspicuous negro in the country, to be minister to Hayti.

Miss Ella D. Breckinridge, a daughter of Col. W. C. P. Breckinridge, was married last week to Mr. Lyman Clarkley, of Richmond, Va.

Miss Kate Stopher, of Shelby county, Ky., has been fasting for four weeks. Somebody ought to Stopher before she starves herself to death.

A Chattanooga boy named Arthur Blackford has been arrested charged with stealing two dollars from a dead baby's eyes. This is getting it down pretty fine.

Bob Thomas is still laid up with his wound and his paper, the Caseyville Herald, has been temporarily suspended until he gets able to return to work.

Gen. Simon Cameron, who died in Pennsylvania last week, was 91 years of age. He had been a Senator and Cabinet officer and was one of the greatest men his State has ever produced.

In Shelby county Mr. Geo. Money has just married Miss Carrie Moore. If they married for business reasons both parties ought to be satisfied. She got Money and he got Moore.

Four new stars will be placed upon the American flag next Thursday, although the four new states will not really take their places in the union of States until next fall, after their constitutions have been framed and adopted.

Prohibitionists will have to turn to Michigan for consolation since the recent elections in Pennsylvania and Rhode Island. Under the new laws in that state, one-half the counties will soon be local option and the state license in the others will be $500.

The selection of Wm. Walter Phelps as Minister to Germany gives a proper representation to the dudes of the country; but though Wallapoo wears bangs on the outside of his head, he wears brains in the interior and his appointment is by no means a bad one.

Hon. Boyd Winchester has explained the "European Situation" in a two column interview in the Courier-Journal. Mr. Winchester has recently returned from Switzerland because his own "situation" slipped from under him and ought to know something about situations.

Those editors who are declaring that the school commencement must go, will not soon be gratified. As long as education needs encouragement, cultured people will continue to attend school concerts and listen to essays and addresses, even though many of them be tiresome and uninteresting. And as long as commencement are greeted with crowded houses they will stay; and nobody will deny their critics the privilege of remaining away from them.

Henry Thompson, of the Paducah News, who has one of the clearest heads in the K. P. A., has this item which reads like a wall of despair: "The baldheaded editors of Kentucky will no doubt be pained to read that there is positively no cure for such failing. In cases where the hair has fallen out from sickness it will usually come back, but if it comes from causes that are natural it is hopeless, and he must simply use his pen to make such respectable."

J. Fletcher Marcus, the handsome young editor of the Catlettsburg Democrat, is in a pickle of trouble. He will be remembered as the gay young pencil-shaver who lost his mustache somewhere between Owensboro and the Mammoth Cave. He was a decided ladies' man and probably did more love-making than any other member of the Association. The following from the Irontonian of Ironton, Ohio, across the river from Catlettsburg, tells the kind of fix he now finds himself in:

"At a social gathering in Ashland one evening last week there were present a minister and the Clerk of Boyd county. After numerous other amusements had been indulged in, one suggested a mock marriage. Mr. Fletcher Marcus, editor of the Kentucky Democrat of Catlettsburg, Ky., and Miss Laura Duke Smith, a rich belle from Lexington, Ky., volunteered. The Clerk made out the license and the minister pronounced the holy words. Nothing more was thought of the matter until it was discovered that the marriage was, in the eye of the law, legal, and only the courts can separate them. The lady is distracted over the affair, and the gentleman is said to have a female friend who feels rather sad over it. Miss Smith is a daughter of Gen. Green Clay Smith, the eloquent Baptist preacher."

Mr. Frank B. Richardson, heretofore a Democratic candidate for representative, has decided to run as an independent. His home paper, the Pembroke Criterion says:

"Mr. F. B. Richardson announces himself a candidate for the Legislature, subject to the action of the people at the polls on election day. As the county committee failed to name him as the Democratic standard-bearer at their meeting on the 10th inst., when there was no one else desirous of making the race, Mr. Richardson is justified in taking this step."

This step is to be regretted, as Mr. Richardson's candidacy would have been in all probability favorably acted upon by the Committee at the meeting to-morrow. A triangular race will necessarily bring a side issue into the race.

The eyes of the sporting fraternity are just now turned towards New Orleans and the approaching mill between Jno. L. Sullivan and Jake Kirkin. The fight will come off next Monday at a point on the line between Louisiana and Mississippi, twenty-nine miles from New Orleans. Both pugilists are in good condition and the fight will be a hard one. Bets are five to four on Sullivan.

The following additional Democratic legislative nominations have been made since last report: Franklin, Scott Brown; Allen, Tibbs Carpenter; McCracken, Meyer Weil; Mason, Hugh P. Cooper; Hancock, Henry Mason; Muilenberg, C. B. Wickliffe; Henry, W. P. Thorne; Garrard, B. H. Tomlinson; Lincoln, R. C. Warren; Graves, W. M. Smith.

The question of annexation to Chicago was voted upon Saturday in the suburbs of Hyde Park, Lake, Lakeview, Cicero and Jefferson and carried in all of them. This adds 200,000 to the population of Chicago, increasing the number of inhabitants to 1,100,000. The area of the city is now 174 square miles and in population it ranks next to New York.

"A Versailles man has obtained a judgment against another for $2,750 damages for slapping his wife. The defendant is a married man, and why he should spend $2,750 to slap another man's wife, when he could slap his own for nothing, is a mystery to us."—Bowling Green Times.

J. Logan Sigman who, when a Union soldier, killed Wm. Higgins, a 15 year old boy who was hunting for Jeff Davis, in 1861, was brought back to Mt. Vernon, Ky., for trial this year and has just been acquitted.

Three persons were killed and several wounded in a railroad accident near New Haven, Conn., Saturday. Another accident occurred near Port Huron, Mich., the same day which injured six passengers, some of them seriously.

The salaries of the postmasters at Frankfort, Shelbyville, Paris and Paducah have been reduced. The last mentioned city can console herself, however, with the reflection that she is still ahead of Owensboro.

McDow, the murderer of Editor Dawson, at Charleston, S. C., was tried last week and acquitted by a jury, the majority of whom were negroes. McDow is a white man and ought to have been hanged.

Frederick C. Prentiss, a New York man who claimed half the city of Duluth, has had his suit decided in his favor in the Circuit Court at Ashland, Wis.

The public debt was reduced $15,000,000 during the month of June. Some private debts due this office were not reduced so much.

Martin Hodgens, town marshal of Uniontown, Ky., killed himself with a razor Friday. He used it on his throat.

Worked Like a Charm.

Bridget's Female Regulator worked like a charm; improved her health wonderfully; cannot express my gratitude. Wish every lady afflicted monthly would try it. I know it would cure them.

Mrs. Lula A. Long, Spring Grove, Fla., sold by Buckner Leavell, Drugist, Hopkinsville, Ky.

UNJUST CRITICISM.

Some criticism has been indulged in because the trustees of the Hopkinsville Public Schools have seen fit to make a few changes in the faculty of the schools and have elected two new teachers outside of the country. This is the same kind of talk that was indulged in nine years ago, when the board went to Ohio to get a competent and thoroughly qualified superintendent and failed to employ less capable applicants who lived in Hopkinsville. The board is at present composed of J. I. Landes, J. D. Russell, O. S. Brown, E. M. Flack, W. L. Mourse, J. P. Braden and Nat Gaither. They are seven of our best and most reputable citizens, who have the good of the schools thoroughly at heart. They know the importance of keeping the schools up to their present standard of excellence and when the right kind of local talent has not been available they have in past years chosen a few from other counties and one or two from other states. In the present instance they have selected two non-resident teachers. One of them, Miss Bush, is a professional teacher. She has graduated from a literary college and from a normal school and has had several years experience. Her testimonials are of the very best character and it can hardly be doubted that the best interests of the schools have been subserved by her election. The other young lady, Miss Bradley, is a daughter of a former circuit judge of this district, is well educated, competent and experienced. She also comes highly recommended as a splendid teacher. The Hopkinsville public schools should not be made a training school for young and inexperienced teachers. None but the best and most competent teachers, with practical school-room experience if they have not graduated from normal schools, should be employed. This may work a seeming hardship upon some deserving girls, but the schools will be all the better in consequence. The trustees always give preference to local applicants when other things are equal. Teaching nowadays is a profession and there are schools for educating professional teachers, but we cannot recall an instance where any Hopkinsville girl has attended one of these schools. In competing with graduates of normal schools our home girls are necessarily placed at a disadvantage, but nearly all of the present teachers were chosen when without experience, because they were young ladies who lived here and needed the places. The board thought it best not to employ any more inexperienced teachers, because such action is not attended with the best results. Business men often have to go to other cities to secure the help they need, although they may be over-run with local applications. There are many instances of the kind here in our midst and in some cases those who are criticising the school board most severely are themselves examples of imported talent. It is well enough to make certain provisions for your new collector can dismiss any who neglect to resign at his pleasure.

Stamp deputy—W. L. Hardigg, of Uniontown; salary $700. There is to be appointed at Bowing Green and Glasgow each a division deputy, stamp deputy and general storekeeper and gauger, but Mr. Feland has not yet fully decided whom he will put in these places and will not finally make up his mind before Monday.

Collector Feland will select his storekeepers and gaugers at his leisure, the present force having been re-assigned to duty a few days ago and will be paid six days. It is not improbable however that within sixty days at least many of these places will be filled by Republicans, as the new collector can dismiss any who neglect to resign at his pleasure.

Stamp deputy—W. L. Hardigg, of Uniontown; salary $700.

Mrs. N. D. Green, of Hopkinsville, arrived Sunday. Mr. Green is express messenger on the O. V., and they may remain sometime in our midst.—Princeton Banner.

Cadet Cyrus S. Radford, of the U. S. Navy, arrived Saturday and will be with his father's family here until Aug. 10, and perhaps longer, as his training ship, the Constellation, is undergoing repairs.

Mr. Walter S. Means, who has just returned from a two years' trip to Europe, Australia and Mexico, is now in the city and will spend two weeks with his mother before returning to his home in Louisville.

CREAM OF NEWS.

A Grave Desecrated.

Just outside the city limits on the Palmyra road, is a graveyard in which was buried in a vault many years ago the remains of the first wife of Dr. Charles Shackelford, formerly of this city but now of Memphis. The stone vault has recently been broken open and the skeleton of the departed lady exposed to full view. The skull and other bones can be plainly seen and are rooted about by hogs and handled by children every day. It is said a number of boys at one time amused themselves by placing the skull on the end of a pole and carrying it around the neighborhood. It ought to be somebody's business to look into this matter and have the bones re-interred.

A Serious Cutting Affray.

At a festival at the colored church on the Hopkinsville and Princeton Pike, five miles from the city, Saturday night, Jim Dade cut Harry Wright in three places, inflicting serious wounds. Both parties are colored. The trouble was caused by Wright's stepping on Dade's toes. Wright made an apology for what he had done which was not accepted but answered by a blow from Dade's fist. Wright then knocked Dade down and as he (Dade) arose he did the hacking. Dade made his escape and officers are hunting him. From our informant we learned that Wright is still alive.

The Republican Ticket.

The Republican Convention met yesterday and organized by electing A. H. Payne, col. chairman and Benton Brown, secretary. Only 12 of the 24 districts were represented. The anti-Lander delegation in Hopkinsville No. 1 was seated and Bob Lander, the colored candidate, announced that he had been ignored he would no longer be a candidate. The Convention then in short order unanimously nominated E. H. B. Clark, of Bellevue, for representative and Dr. J. W. Lillard, col., for coroner. Delegates were appointed to the State Convention on the 4th and the meeting adjourned after E. H. Clark had made a speech of acceptance.

Dead in a Cave.

Geo. Bailey, a colored boy 16 years of age, was found dead in a cave four miles east of Fairview, in Todd county, one day last week. An inquest was held and a verdict returned that he died from foul air. It is supposed he went into the cave to sleep where it was cool and was killed by the impure air with which the cave was poisoned.

HERE AND THERE.

The above article appeared in the Daily New Era of the 23rd inst., and is calculated to mislead the public and do an injustice to the police force of this city as well as the L. & N. railroad. My men are instructed to enforce the ordinance referred to and so far as my information extends, have done so. No complaint has been made to me on the subject by any individual. If the author of the article will designate when and where the ordinance is violated, his complaint will receive immediate attention. In justice to the railroad, I desire to say that its employees yield a cheerful obedience to the ordinance and do not to my knowledge obstruct the principal streets for the length of time allowed by law.

Mr. Calvin G. Layne recently purchased a fine Shropshire buck, registered No. 219, and a ewe of the same stock, registered No. 215, and will in future devote his time to the raising of fine sheep, hogs, cattle, mules and fancy and high bred horses, instead of wheat and tobacco, on his excellent farm a few miles east of the city.

Lou Howard, who was sent to the Hopkinsville Insane Asylum several years ago, immediately after having been accused of a charge of murder on the ground of insanity, has been declared cured and released from the asylum. He returned a few days ago to his home at Utica. Lou was a giant when he committed the crime of murdering old man Smith, and is now more gigantic than ever, weighing 295 pounds.—Owensboro Inquirer.

The Clarksville Tobacco Leaf sent out letters of inquiry to every part of this tobacco district and received reports from which it draw the following conclusions: "Except in a few instances the returns have been made in acres. Omitting the reports where the per cent. is stated instead of the acreage, we find that within the areas embraced in these reports there were planted last year 19,746 acres of tobacco; that an average is 15,802 acres, and that the present planting is 12,295 acres, making the present planting about 65 per cent. of last year."

Has this trade been concluded since you failed to secure the Collectorship?

"But the investment has been determined upon, though I should have moved my family to Virginia, of course, if I had been made Collector, but would in that event have had the business conducted by other parties."

Obstructing Streets.

"And once more we would like to remark that the ordinance relating to freight trains blocking the thoroughfares of the city and fixing a penalty for its violation, is never enforced. Has the L. & N. railroad a clear title to Hopkinsville?"
